

CASE STUDY:

Pharmaceutical Fulfillment and Contract Clinic

Rethink

Aurora was engaged by a pharmaceutical fulfillment Company which had a contract with a major medical clinic. This contract allowed for the fulfillment company to receive and sort pharmaceutical packets before distributing to patients at the clinic with an automatic billing system tied in. However, due to the accelerated growth the Company suffered liquidity issues.

React

Aurora developed sophisticated cash flow modeling and redeveloped the Company's capital and operating structures for efficiency. Aurora also brought the Company back in to covenant compliance.

Results

The recapitalization and operating structure improvements were successful for the pharmaceutical Company and it is still in operation today.
